Re: EB Docket No. 06-36

Dear Ms. Dortch

Submitted herewith is Wecom's proprietary network information ("CPNI") report for 2011.

As noted in Wecom's filing last year, its customer arrangements are individually negotiated with a specific solution tailored to customers' individual needs. In other words, there is no indifferent holding out "directly to the public, or to such classes of users as to be effectively available to the public..." 47 U.S.C. 153(46). Thus, it is submitted that Wecom should be viewed as a "telecommunications carrier." See National Association of Regulatory Utility Commissioners vs. FCC, 525 F.2d 630, 641 (D.C. Cir. 1976), and should be considered exempt from CPNI requirements. Nevertheless, out of an abundance of caution Wecom submits the attached CPNI policies, and related certification.

If there are any questions concerning this matter, kind contact me.

Sincerely,

Noelle Fleming
President

WECOM, INC. – CPNI COMPLIANCE STATEMENT

During 2011, Wecom., Inc. provided leased microwave service to various entities including health care providers and local government agencies, and commercial mobile radio (dispatch) service (“CMRS”). These services were in each case individually negotiated with the respective customer.

With respect to its microwave service, Wecom is not aware of the specifics of any particular messages or communications sent or received. It does not switch the traffic. It does not bill for the service on a per message or per usage basis. It bills for its service on a monthly, flat rate basis. No pretexter could gain information from Wecom concerning the details of its customers’ communications.

With respect to CMRS or a possible launch in the future of a VOIP service via resale. Wecom offers the following:

Wecom (or “the Company”) operates its facilities in a manner that ensures adherence to the rules of the Federal Communications Commission relating to the handling of customer proprietary network information (“CPNI”) and the prompt reporting of any circumstances or events in which the security of CPNI may have been breached or compromised.

1. The Company will follow Commission CPNI rules and policies to the extent it comes into possession of any CPNI. The Company will ensure that it is appropriately updated with CPNI rule revisions and has designed Noelle Fleming as its CPNI compliance officer to supervise and enforce the implementation of CPNI protective measures and mandated reporting.
2. The Company will ensure that its employees are trained with respect to the proper handling of CPNI and the security requirements relating thereto based on the materials referenced in Item #1 above.
3. The Company has not during the recent reporting period utilized any CPNI data in connection with any sales or marketing campaigns within the scope of the Commission’s CPNI rules. However, should any such sales or marketing campaigns be initiated in the future, the Company will utilize a system in which the status of a customer’s CPNI approval can be determined prior to its use.
4. It is the Company’s policy to maintain a record of any instance or circumstance in which CPNI under its control is disclosed or furnished to third parties, or where third parties are granted access to CPNI. This record will include a description of each sales or marketing campaign, the CPNI used in the campaign, and the identity of products or services that are offered as part of such campaign.
5. The Company will maintain a supervisory review process for compliance with record-keeping associated with any sales or marketing campaign that utilizes CPNI, and will require the maintenance of such records for a minimum period of one year. In the event any sales or marketing campaigns are undertaken that make use of CPNI data, any person so engaged shall ensure that customer notifications and opt-out elections are properly recorded and followed.

6. The Company will notify law enforcement and all affected customer of the unauthorized disclosure of CPNI in accordance within the time limits imposed by the FCC.
7. The Company took no actions against data brokers or "pretexters" during the reporting period (2011) including, without limitation, any proceedings initiated by the Company at the FCC, any state public utility commission, or in any court system.
8. The Company has determined that no data broker or "pretexter" has attempted to access CPNI on any portion of its system.
9. The following is a summary of customer complaints received during the reporting period relating to the unauthorized release of CPNI:
